VOLUME CIX.--NO. 65. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 16, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers, and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.

The new law prohibits the sale of liquor to any minor or to any student at any school, college or university, or to any intoxicated person, or to a lunatic, epileptic or habitual drunkard, where the saloon keeper knows them to be such. It also forbids any person to buy ardent spirits for such persons. It prohibits the employment of women or minors in any capacity in any saloon. It prohibits the drinking of ardent spirits on a passenger train, except by special permission from the conductor. It prohibits the delivery of liquor by railroad, steamboat or express companies, except to the person to whom it is addressed, or to his employe, upon his written order. It prohibits the managers or employes of dispensaries to deliver ardent spirits to any person outside of the village, town or city in which the dispensary is located.

Retail liquor license cannot be granted to county districts or in towns of less than 500 inhabitants, based upon the last preceding United States census, unless the community be within a county contiguous to a city having police protection paid for by the public, and where license has been granted during the twelve months prior to the date of the passage of this act, or unless it be to a hotel or social club at a health resort having a natural mineral spring connected therewith, or situated by the sea, or any large body of salt water connected therewith.

No liquor license can be granted to any person except a qualified voter of the county or city in which the business is to be conducted, except in cases of persons who at present hold such license, and in such cases the person desiring license must be a qualified voter in the State. This provisions absolutely prohibits the granting of license to women, temporary sojourners and foreigners not qualified to vote.

For the first offense, in addition to a fine, a jail sentence may be added in the discretion of the court, and the offender is required to give bond for twelve months, with approved security, in the penalty of $500. For the second offense the offender is fined and imprisoned and his bond is forfeited, and he is required to give bond for $1,000. It is believed that the jail sentence and the bond feature will be very effective in preventing violations of the law.

The new law provides that a search warrant may be issued to search places where it is a matter of common report that liquor is illegally sold, and if more than two gallons of ardent spirits are found this fact shall be admitted as evidence in the trial of the party accused of illicit sale.

No social club can dispense liquor in territory where retail liquor license cannot be granted, nor on Christmas Day, election days or on Sundays. All social clubs shall execute a bond with security of $5,000, which bond shall be forfeited if the law is violated. Social clubs, while compelled to close on Sundays, Christmas and election days, can keep open all night.

Section 19, as amended, says: "No person shall dispense ardent spirits of any description on Sunday or Christmas Day. Nor shall any saloon be kept open between the hours of 12 p. m. and 5 a. m.

SHOT BY MISTAKE.

The fatal wounding of Deputy Marshal Smith Childers by Jacob McDowell, a negro, at Providence, Ky., Saturday night, was the indirect cause of the shooting of two traveling men. P. B. Carter, of Chattanooga, and J. B. Barry, commercial travelers, were shot and severely wounded from ambush by negroes while driving between Dixon and Providence with two other drummers. The negroes who did the shooting evidently thought that the salesmen were pursuing McDowell.

Deputy Marshal Childers was shot while attempting to arrest McDowell. The negro was taken to Dixon by another officer. White men immediately gathered to lynch McDowell.

Negroes of Providence, hearing this, armed themselves and lay in wait by the road over which the mob was expected to pass. The traveling men soon came along, and the ambushed negroes fired on them and escaped. McDowell was hurried from Dixon to Henderson.

The mob, arriving at the Dixon jail at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and finding McDowell gone, set out with bloodhounds to find the negroes who had fired on the traveling men. Will McDowell, a cousin, of the prisoner; Tom Fuqua, Tom Miller and another negro were arrested yesterday charged with shooting the traveling men.

The mob has not found the four negroes, and probably will not go to Henderson after McDowell.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands who have used it? It is applied directly to the affected air-passage and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

The New Black Dress Fabrics

BLACKS are to be fashionable for spring and summer. For dressy wear, sheer materials will again be the principal factor, and the voiles will continue to hold a leading place. Mohairs, Brilliantines, and Sicilienne will be greatly in evidence.

Shadow stripes and checks will be an important feature.

Herringbone stripes will be favored rather than plain. Unobstructive chevron stripes will be one of the ultra novelty designs.

Among the leading black fabrics are:

Priestley's—Tussah Mohair Stripes, Resilda Silk Canton, Lorento Pekin Stripes, Wool Rosetta, Queen Cloth, Chiffon Panamas, Melrose Cloth, Striped Voiles, Silk-warp Henriettas, Mohair Sicilian (check) Cravenette Serge, Plain Voiles. Lupin's—Wool Taffetas, Plain Voiles, Checked Voiles, Striped Voiles, Checked Serges, Checked Batiste, Striped Serges, Chiffon Panamas. Other popular makes include All-wool Henriettas, Nun's Veiling, Wool Batiste, Herringbone Cheviot, Spotproof Broadcloth, Brilliantines, Croise Gloria, Storm Serges, Chichinette, French Serges, &c.

The Rich New Silks.

The past week marked the completed shipments of new Spring and Summer Silks, in both the imported and domestic lines, including Princess Surah, Surah Cheviot, Surah Shantung, Printed Foulard, Tussah, Fluff Ruffle Silk, Rajah, Shah, Shantung, Plain and Printed Taffetas, &c.

Surah Shantung is one of the newest and prettiest silks—is intended for tailor suits and demi-tailored costumes.

The rough, unfinished silk—Rajah, Shah, and all kindred weaves—will, in addition to being used for tailored suits and dressy costumes—be used by millinery for hats and draperies.

Foulards promise to be ultra-fashionable, both for dresses and waists. They come in neat and printed effects—stripes, dots, &c.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, MAR. 16, 1908.

SOME, at least, of the members of the grand jury have talked and the report is current on the street (and has been published far and wide bringing no credit to the city) that Peabody school building is to be condemned. Well, if this be true, what will happen? Will between five and six hundred girls be turned out of school in the middle half of the session? This must follow, for there is at present no building in the city as suitable for school purposes as the one they now occupy. A new building can not be erected in a day or in six months even if the money were at hand, but such is not the case. The School Board has just enough money to conduct the schools till the end of the session so, of course, if a new building is to be erected the City Council must furnish the funds. But just now Council is preparing to fund the city debt which at present amounts to the limit allowed under the State constitution. Then where is the money (not less than $30,000 or $40,000) coming from? These are facts that should be considered and no hasty or radical action should be taken. Of course the protection of the lives of the children should be the first aim and object of all concerned and money should not enter into this question; but is this not already the case, and is it to be presumed that the members of the School Board have not taken all precautions to guard against fire? It would be a decided reflection upon these gentlemen to say to the contrary. Over zealousness is a fault, as much as is indifference, and it is hoped that the high inquisitorial board now investigating the condition of the public buildings in the city will be governed by moderation and not let their better judgment be swayed by sensational people or extravagant stories. A sensational report may do more harm than good. For years past it has been an accepted truth that Alexandria is more injured by her own than by outside people.

A DISPATCH from Pittsburg, Pa., says the receipt of Black Hand letters in two Catholic parishes, threatening to blow up the parochial schools if fathers of the pupils attending them testified against the eight alleged Black Hand conspirators who had been on trial last week, caused such a panic among the mothers of the Italian district that both schools were closed all of last Friday. The Catholic authorities refused to take the matter seriously, though policemen guarded the parish buildings. A report that the school attached to St. Peter's Catholic Church, at McKeesport, would be blown up with dynamite by the Black Hand Society has caused 75 per cent. of the pupils to remain away from the building. The murder of a priest in Denver recently and the receipt of threatening letters by others in different parts of the country have naturally caused anxiety, and threats to dynamite public schools will prove an additional cause of apprehension.

PERSISTENT reports from Washington that the President has given assurances to leading banking interests that he will adopt a more favorable attitude toward corporations during the remainder of his term were used by the New York market boomers to advance prices again Saturday. Several versions of the President's new policy have been put in circulation. One of these is that representatives of Wall street banking interests and the presidents of two important industrial corporations had held conferences with President Roosevelt within the week and had promised him that Wall street will support Taft provided the President will modify his attitude toward the railroads and give them his assistance in an effort to advance freight rates. Wall street believed something important had happened at Washington and the result was a much-improved sentiment among the traders. The public, however, still maintains its indifferent attitude toward the stock market and is not speculating.

THE Richmond papers state that more than five hundred measures introduced during the recent session of the legislature were left in the committee rooms, and as far as the members introducing them are concerned, they might as well have spared themselves the trouble of drafting them. What a great mercy this was. There are already enough laws on the statute books to last many generations and the thought of having five hundred more added to the number is appalling. How fortunate it is that the legislative sessions are limited to sixty days.

REPRESENTATIVE BANNON, of Ohio, who was for a time the only member of the House from his State who openly espoused the cause of Senator Foraker, on Saturday informed his colleagues in the House during a political speech that the negroes in Ohio would vote the republican ticket next fall. Mr. Bannon has discovered a mares' nest. Did the negro, as a whole, ever vote anything but the republican ticket?

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.

Target practice has begun at Magdalena Bay. Admiral Evans has sprung another surprise on the Navy Department. Now content with arriving at his destination two days ahead of time and with his entire fleet in better condition than when it left Hampton Roads, he apparently has been working night and day since arrival to get his guns into action to again smash the world's records, and actual firing began yesterday. The better the day the better the deed is the navy motto as was demonstrated at Manila and Santiago, and as all preparations were completed Saturday night, the first guns were fired at sunrise yesterday. This information was conveyed in a telegram to the Navy Department today, in which it was stated that weather conditions were ideal and that the admiral hoped to do better work than ever before. The fleet arrived 2 days ahead of time, and it was expected that fully four days would be required in which to get position on the ranges and take the boresights. These preparations were concluded one day earlier than expected. Four ranges have been laid out and the ships of the fleet will work by divisions of four. It is expected that now Admiral Evans will be able to rush the target work through within three weeks.

By a vote of three to two the subcommittee of the Senate judiciary committee today decided that all of the bills which purpose to give to the States control of liquor transported in interstate commerce as soon as the shipment crosses the State border are unconstitutional. A report to that effect was made to the full committee together with the suggestion that all of the bills be rejected. The full committee will meet this afternoon to consider the report. The subcommittee consists of Senators Knox, Nelson, and Fulton (reps), and Bacon and Rayner (dems). It is understood that the three who voted against the proposed legislation were Knox, Fulton and Rayner.

More than half the total of $8,210,611 carried in the fortifications appropriation bill, as reported to the House today by the appropriations committee, is devoted to fortifying and protecting the insular possessions of the United States and the Pacific coast. The Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands are dealth with generously.

Jumping out of a third story window, at his home, William E. Ridgely, aged 64, an employe of the Postoffice Department, killed himself early this morning. He had been ill with the grip.

The Countess of Buena Vista today lost her case in the Supreme Court of the United States, where she was seeking to recover damages from General John R. Brooke, U. S. A., for abolishing her valuable slaughter house privilege in Havana, Cuba, when Brooke, with his army, took possession of Cuba in 1899. She claimed the right under a grant from the king of Spain. The court held her right was exhausted.

Lee V. Clark has been appointed postmaster at Light, Frederick county, Virginia.

The big packing companies of the west were hit hard by the U. S. Supreme Court today, when it approved the $15,000 fines imposed upon each by the lower courts, under the Elkins act, for receiving "concessions" in rates from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroads on meat for export. The companies include the Armour, the Swift, the Morris and the Cudahy establishments.

President Roosevelt is anxious to send violators of the pure food law to jail. Today he sent for Prosecuting Attorney Baker of the police court in this city who last week secured the conviction of Mr. Robert N. Harper. Mr. Harper is president of the Chamber of Commerce and of the American National Bank and is very prominent both in business and social circles. He was charged with manufacturing and selling a headache cure which contained poisonous drugs, the labels of which contained no mention or hint of the preparation's dangerous character. Under the law Mr. Harper may be fined $500 or sentenced to six months in jail or both at the discretion of the court. It is believed by Mr. Roosevelt that a jail sentence in the Harper case would have more effect toward insuring respect and observance of the pure food and drug law than a dozen prosecutions of less prominent or wealthy men, or the imposition of a heavy fine.

In the House today Mr. Carlin made a strong speech in favor of restoring the motto "In God We Trust" on the coins of the country.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury J. H. Edwards has accepted the position of receiver of the New Amsterdam National Bank of New York.

Joseph Meyer, the mysterious New Yorker, who made an ineffectual attempt to see the President last night, tried it again this morning with similar lack of success. Meyer saw Senator Beveridge emerge from the White House, and, grasping his hand, said he (the Senator) was an inspired man. Meyer was finally admitted to Secretary Loeb's office, where he told a rambling story about insurance frauds.

Bryan and Sullivan.

Chicago, Mar. 16.—Before William J. Bryan reaches Chicago to make an address tomorrow evening it is intimated that the democratic dove of peace will have a large "hands-off" placard tied to it at the special request of Roger C. Sullivan. The chance of the breaking out of the feud between Sullivan and Bryan will be very small, it is said, if the Nebraskan decides to leave things as he finds them and accept the offering which the Illinois democratic committee is willing to make. But if he endeavors to take a hand in the selection of national committeeman there is likely to be a scrap. Mr. Bryan will arrive tomorrow morning. He will address the Irish Fellowship Club at a banquet at the Auditorium and will be presented with a package of shamrock seed sent over from the "ould sod."

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

B. F. Crocker, Esq., now 84 years of age, and for twenty years Justice of the Peace at Martinsburg, Iowa, says: "I am terribly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism in my left arm and right hip. I have used three bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it did me lots of good." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Quite a commotion was caused in the Boulevard Haussmann in Paris the other day, when one of the best-known women in Paris got out of an elegant motor car leading with a silver chain a tiny poodle dressed in the height of fashion. The dog was wearing a pigskin collar adorned with gold coins, and a little fur coat with a side pocket, from which peeped a small lace handkerchief, while its paws were protected from the damp in india rubber shoes.

In the poodle's ears were two pairs of diamond earring, one pair in each ear, the ears being pierced at base and at the tip.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

Willie Mothershead, twenty-one years old, a servant, employed by John O'Connell, in Washington, shot and fatally wounded Charles A. Davis, twenty-three years old, a clerk in the Baltimore and Ohio freight office, at North Capital and R streets northwest, Washington, about 11 o'clock last night.

Davis has five bullet wounds in his head, three under the left eye, one at the base of the brain, behind the right ear, and one in the chest, a few inches above the heart. He is at Freedman's Hospital. The girl is held at the House of Detention on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

She said Davis is a son of a Capt. Davis, of Millville, N. J. It is said that the girl was formerly a servant in the employ of the Davis family, and that she has known Davis for four years.

Davis was in an unconscious condition at an early hour this morning, and it was impossible to obtain a statement from him.

The girl told the police that she had met Davis at her mother's home, at Tidwells, Westmoreland county, Va. According to her statement, Davis left Virginia three years ago and went to Washington.

She said that Davis had proposed to her and that he had promised to marry her. A year ago she asked him if he was going to keep his promise, and he replied that he was not ready to get married. About that time Miss Mothershead says she heard that Davis had fallen in love with a young woman who lives in Brightwood avenue northwest.

The doctors say Davis will recover and the girl says she will marry him if he wants her to do so.

FARM HAND KILLED.

In the house of the manager of Acca stock farm, just across the road from the Deep Run Hunt Club, near Richmond, William Murphy, employed on the farm was shot and instantly killed by Silas Smith, the manager, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The only other occupants of the house were two small children, Mrs. Smith and her daughter not being home at the time.

Smith went at once to Richmond and gave himself up at the county jail, where he is now confined.

He declares that he was justified in killing Murphy, and that he would commit the act again, for he asserts the dead man had ruined his home and had acted improperly toward his wife and sixteen-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Smith says Murphy's attentions were only friendly, and that her husband was under the influence of liquor when he killed the man.

Early in the evening Smith and his wife became involved in a quarrel about their daughter. Murphy took part in the quarrel, and Smith drove them all out of the house, shooting twice at Murphy as he ran.

They went to the Deep Run clubhouse, across the road, and remained until 2 o'clock, when Murphy returned to Smith's house.

As soon as Murphy entered, Smith drew a gun and shot him in the head. Murphy fell over in Smith's arms and died almost instantly.

Today's Telegraphic News.

The Lilley Investigation.

Gen. M. C. Butler, former Senator from South Carolina, went before the Lilley investigating commission today and denied that he had ever lobbied or done anything wrong to influence legislation by Congress in favor of the Electric Boat Company, manufacturer of submarines. He had been counsel for the company, he said, but he had never lobbied for it. On three occasions he addressed the naval affairs committee of the Senate in favor of the company's boat. All this happened while he was an attorney here but after he had left the Senate. "A lobby has no terrors for an honest man," he said, "but I never was engaged in lobbying." When the hearing was resumed this morning, Chairman Boutell announced that the officers of the Electric Boat Company, as requested by Mr. Lilley, will be summoned to testify in the near future, and bring with them the records and documents of the company.

General Butler then took the stand.

He said he first wanted to make a statement in behalf of General Eppa Hunton, whose name has been drawn into the Lilley matter.

"A more honorable gentleman never lived," said General Butler.

At this point, Boutell had the clerk read a letter from Eppa Hunton, jr., of Richmond, asking that it be made known that his father was too old and feeble to appear as a witness, but wanted the committee to know he had at one time been counsel for the Holland Boat Company or Electric Boat Company but had not been employed as a lobbyist.

General Butler said that in 1896 or 1897 he was counsel for the Electric Boat Company and his employment extended up to three or four years ago. One year, he said, he was paid $2,400 a year. "After that he was paid varying amounts. It was while I was engaged in practicing law here," said the general. "One thing I did was to represent the company before the Senate naval affairs committee. The most valuable service I rendered the company was the argument I made before the committee.

"I said then and repeat here that submarine boats are good things and this country ought to have one hundred of them."

"Did you ever approach individual Senators on this matter?" asked Representative Howard of Georgia, in behalf of the committee.

"Never."

"Did you ever entertain Senators on behalf of your boat company?" continued Howard.

"There was a demonstration boat down in the Potomac at one time and I invited some Senators to go down to the tug and see the boat. I saw nothing wrong in that. For what I did, I have no apologies to make, either to Mr. Lilley or anybody else. I see Mr. Lilley has talked about an 'organized lobby' here. "I'd like to know what he means by that."

C. E. Greecy followed Representative Howard. He was the original attorney for the Holland Boat Company.

Conditions in Hayti.

Kingston, March 16.—The wildest rumors are circulating here of attacks of the residences of foreign diplomatic representatives at Port au Prince and Gonavies, Hayti, and of further official massacres of natives suspected of participation in anti-government conspiracies.

So strict is the censorship out of Port au Prince that definite information is lacking since the news of yesterday's execution of nine suspects and the government's subsequent written demand on the French and German ministers for the surrender of all the revolutionists harbored with them.

American, British, German and French war vessels, it is said, have been ordered to Hayti.

The sudden outbreak of violence is generally accepted as having broken off the negotiations under which it was expected the refugees in the various consulates would be permitted to leave Hayti under pledge never to return.

London, Mar. 16.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith informed the House of Commons today that the cruiser Indefatigable and the armored cruiser Crescent have been ordered to Hayti, where alarming conditions are said to prevail with threats of attacks on the foreign consulates and diplomatic representatives.

Attempt to Rob Collection Plate.

Chicago, Mar. 16.—Emma Moore, said to be the daughter of a former well-known physician of Buffalo, was arrested at the First Presbyterian Church, Evanston, after the Sunday evening service on the charge of trying to steal a five-dollar bill from the collection plate. It is said the woman is a victim of the drug habit, a result of a sickness in which laudanum was administered to her until she became its victim. At the police station she heard a minister say "there is always hope," and she went into the church, believing that she might pull herself up again. The drug cried out to her and it won. When she saw the money she could not resist the temptation to take it, she said.

Lightning Struck Powder Magazine.

Boston, Mar. 16.—The first thunder storm of the year which raged in eastern Massachusetts last evening caused havoc in several towns. At South Acton lightning struck a small magazine of the American Powder Company causing it and another to explode. Both magazine buildings were demolished and windows were broken in Maynard, two and a half miles away. Had the explosion occurred on a work day several lives must have been sacrificed. Lightning ripped up things at Wakefield where it entered the house of Jos Gosney, smashed the dishes and put the furnace and gas meter out of business.

Attempt to Burn Tenement House.

New York, Mar. 16.—An attempt was made by an incendiary to burn a six-story tenement house in which 12 families lived in upper Madison avenue early today. With oil-soaked refuse seven separate fires were started in the basement. Though the fire was extinguished with small damage, the police and firemen say the incendiary evidently planned not only to burn the building but to end the lives of all its tenants. There were many thrilling and narrow escapes from the building.

Hitchcock Discharged.

New York, March 16.—Giving the prosecution the biggest "jolt" which it had received and practically destroying all hope of confirming the charges made by Helen Von Hagen against Raymond Hitchcock, Flora Whiston, one of the girls alleged to have accused the actor of abusing them, flatly denied on the witness stand today that she had ever gone to Hitchcock's room in the "house of the stained glass panels" where the prosecution charges the Von Hagen girl was wronged. Flora, it was charged by the state, was present when the alleged assault occurred. She directly contradicted her testimony before the grand jury.

New York, Mar. 16.—Raymond Hitchcock was honorably discharged and formally dismissed early this afternoon on the charge of wronging Helen Von Hagen.

Justice Blanchard said that the girl's confession and the charges she made that agents of the Gerry Society intimidated her, was so serious a matter that the district attorney must make an investigation. Hitchcock is still held on the charges made by Elsie Voreks and Prosecutor Garvan promised he would seek an early trial.

Flora Whitton has been arrested on a charge of perjury.

Under instructions from the court the jury returned the formal verdict of acquittal without leaving their seats.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 16.—There was no interruption to the upward movement that has now prevailed for over ten days, and prices of the leading issues on the exchange this morning made further important gains over the high levels reached on Saturday. There are many reports about reduced dividend payments and decreased earnings which were used by the trading element as a reason for fighting the market, but the room had no following and whatever outside business came in was on the buying side of the market and helped along the advance. In government bonds the twos registered advanced ¼ per cent. Railroad and other bonds were strong.

After the first hour some large operators forced a moderate recession in the most active issues. Business fell off in volume and at midday the market was again of a professional character. The range of prices at midday generally showed advances over Saturday's close.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 16.

SENATE.

Senator-elect F. B. Gary, of South Carolina, took the oath of office in the Senate this afternoon.

Charging the President with being drunk with power and with now being engaged "in a bold and unblushing effort to dictate his successor in the White House or compel his own renomination for a third term," Senator Tillman (S. C.), in the Senate this afternoon, denounced executive encroachment which had been made successful through the improper use of federal patronage.

He said the President was "always loud mouthed and even vehement in the proclamation of his own purity of purpose and patriotism." He characterized those who were landing Roosevelt as "poor fools" and spoke "of the ignorance and debauchery of the people."

"It is a battle between predatory on both sides," he exclaimed, referring to the present presidential contest "with the power and prestige of the President thrown into the balance of his favorite."

"The price of negro delegates in the south rises day by day" he shouted. "The office-holding clique, manipulated and directed by a high official of the government under Roosevelt's sanction and orders and reinforced by the millions in the hands of the relative and friends of one of the candidates, is opposed in the struggle for the control of these southern delegations by beneficiaries of republican misgovernment who want to be left alone in the enjoyment of power and the benefits to their private fortunes which the existing conditions affords."

Referring to the President's avowed purpose of amending the Sherman act, the Senator exclaimed: "If he has his way, we will soon see in this country such combinations as will produce the practical consolidation of all the railroads of the country." He charged that the President is "now planning a truce with rich malefactors" and that he is ready to grant amnesty to all past trust offenders.

Continuing Mr. Tillman said: "In the most pronounced language he has denounced the combination between labor organization and the boycott, but on the eve of an election, he panders to this same vote by demanding changes in the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court. Organized labor is to be relieved from the prohibition of the Supreme Court's decision, "but along with it, must go the relief of capital. Once relieved the 'malefactors of great wealth' will smile in triumph over their victory, while labor will find itself no freer than before."

Mr. Tillman claimed that organized and disorganized labor has been so misled and deceived by newspapers owned by rich men that they "trail along behind the banner of republicanism and shout for Roosevelt and his policy;" that the millions "who have been robbed are equally as enthusiastic as the millionaires who have been benefitted;" that the capacity of the people to govern themselves wisely is seriously called in question by existing conditions and "the money gained by dishonest and unfair methods is used to control the machinery of nomination at Chicago."

He declared that the House of Representative "has degenerated into little more than a recording machine to do the will of the Speaker and his lieutenants" and that "in the Senate a hardly less disgraceful condition exists; servility and cowardice are the order of the day: freedom of debate still exists but the shadow of the executive hangs over all and the President's wishes are almost the only law."

He contrasted conditions to lay in the Senate with what they were during the Johnson administration and said that the "cowering of the Senate now was due to the improper use of appointive power. "The immense patronage of the office, amounting to millions and millions of dollars," he exclaimed, "has furnished an instrumentality with which to coerce Senators and Congressmen to acquesce and yield obedience to the executive will."

Mr. Tillman referred "to the skill to which the President evades responsibility for abuses which he could correct under existing law while at the same time arousing evil almost to a frenzy by his denunciation of them," and cited the Paul Morton case, and the failure of the government to enforce the personal punishment clause of the Sherman act and the nullifying of the railroad rate law by surrendering to the railroad interests the right of injunction, as instances in which the President had failed in his duty.

The Senator declared that the present banking laws were sufficient to prevent bank over capitulatization, and taunted the President with failure to enforce to them.

Mr. Beveridge objected Tillman's characterization of the President's recommendation for legislation as 'radical and dangerous.'

"Would the Senator from South Carolina oppose any of the legislation advocated by the President?" he asked.

"That depends on what it is," rejoined Mr. Tillman. "I wouldn't permit the Senator from Indiana to be the judge, for I've got more sense than any one who holds that Congress can regulate child labor." (Laughter.)

The Senate passed without opposition the Tillman resolution, directing the committee on finance to investigate whether national banks in New York City and elsewhere are engaged in speculative enterprises.

HOUSE.

The House this afternoon, by a vote of 255 to 5, passed the bill restoring the motto, "In God We Trust," to the gold coins of the United States. Mr. Carlin, of Virginia, made a speech in favor of the bill.

Messrs. Gordon and Kustermann opposed the bill on the ground that such a motto on coins is useless. Mr. Gordon said: "It is nothing but farcical hypocrisy to put that motto on coins."

Mr. Sheppard, of Texas, said: "Of course, we expect all infidels to oppose the bill."

Mr. Gaines, of Tennessee, demanded the ayes and noes.

Those who stood by the President and voted aginst the bill were Messrs. Bartholdt, Cooper, Kustermann, Slayden and Gordon.

More than half the total of $8,210,611 carried in the fortifications appropriation bill, as reported to the House today by the appropriations committee, is devoted to further protecting the insular possessions of the United States and the Pacific coast.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Yesterday about noon when the southerly gale prevailing was at its height, a boat about 14 feet long carrying about 25 yards of canvas could be seen once in a while between the billows of the Potomac, coming from the Maryland shore, every dash filling it almost full of water and drenching the occupants. To those on this side it was apparent that it was an exceedingly reckless if not a dangerous venture, taking into consideration that the occupants consisted of three women and two men, all of Washington who had been on pleasure bent since the night before. After a long struggle and a good ducking they reached the flats just below the ship yard and grounded. Stopping long enough to free the craft of water they, by superhuman efforts, nearly reached the shore in the boat and proceeded to go the rest of the way on foot. Not being able to walk the water they sank in mud and water about one and a half feet, left the boat and wended their way to the steamboat wharf where they embarked for their native city. The roughness of the sea and the plunging of the craft caused the mast to break out, and but for the act of friends in placing it in harbor, today, it would have been a total wreck.

A PROTEST.

Representatives of the East Washington, the South Washington, the Southeast and Northeast Citizens' Associations and individual citizens of that city and Alexandria appeared before the Commissioners of the District of Columbia at a public hearing Saturday morning and entered vigorous protest against the Commissioners turning over to the Pennsylvania Railroad the certificate for $1,500,000 demanded by it for completing its part of the work in connection with the terminal station and tracks.

Representative Charles G. Cardin of Alexandria appeared and denied the right of the railroad company to demand the certificate and of the commissioners to give it. He criticised the railroad company for attempting to evade the honest intent of the law of Congress by making the demand when, he says, it has neither completed the Union station nor broken ground for the substation for the convenience of the southern traffic. Among others who spoke against the issuing of the certificate was Mr. Leo. P. Harlow, of this city.

YESTERDAY.

The weather yesterday was mild and variable. A heavy wind from the south prevailed most of the day, and there were showers at times. Towards the close of the day the wind veered to the northwest, and the temperature fell somewhat.

There were baptisms at both the morning and evening services in the Methodist Episcopal Church South yesterday. Over 30 persons were received into the church. They were converted during the revival services recently held by Rev. Vance Price, of North Carolina.

Mr. James W. Whitten, of Washington, in the afternoon delivered an address before a men's meeting held at the Methodist Episcopal Church South. He took for his subject, "Man to man."

Two persons were received in the Second Presbyterian Church at the night service.

WISH TO HONOR JAMES R. CATON

In legislative circles and among politicians who study the merits and demerits of public men there is a sentiment in favor of James R. Caton, of Alexandria, for Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Caton long has been a member of the House, and as chairman of the committee on privileges and elections he is the Democratic floor leader of that body. Mr. Caton is a good parliamentarian and a ready debater, though he is singularly gentle in his manners. No man can recall the time when, even in the most heated debate, he was even driven to say anything sharp or cutting.

In view of all these facts, as well as in recognition of his faithful party services, the democratic powers that be openly admit that they would like to honor Mr. Caton.—[Richmond Journal.

BARK ASIA CHARTERED.

The Russian bark Asia, Capt. Bjorkman, now discharging a cargo of bones from the River Platte, Argentina, to the Bryant Fertilizer Company, has been chartered to load lumber at Baltimore for Buenos Ayres, with option of going to Rosario or Bahia Blanca. After discharging the cargo of lumber at Buenos Ayres the bark will again load bone for a North American port. The Asia has been unloading at the wharf of the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company. This morning she was towed to the wharf of the Bryant Company, but she could not be placed in the dock, as she draws too much water. She will finish unloading from the end of the pier.

Do not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Children with skates now take possession of the streets to the annoyance and danger of others.

The Virginia police steamer Rappahannock was at the wharf foot of Cameron street today.

Mrs. Mary Watt Cleveland, wife of Mr. Wm. Cleveland, died at her home in Washington on Saturday.

The grand jury of the Corporation Court met again at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The work of inspecting the buildings in the city has been finished, and the report to the court is being prepared.

Several policemen went on a hunt for alleged speakeasies yesterday. They visited several places where there was reason to suspect liquor was being dispensed, but found nothing upon which to base a charge.

A young ladies' seminary is to be established on the Virginia hills overlooking Washington. The school is to be on the Saegmuller property at Vanderwerken station on the Great Falls and Old Dominion electric line.

Thomas Stocks, of Loudoun county, charged with violating the internal revenue laws, was brought before U. S. Commissioner Garnett in this city on Saturday evening and held in the sum of $300 bail for the July term of the U. S. Court.

Harvey Robinson was arrested Saturday night by Officer Sherwood on a charge of being drunk and of carrying concealed weapons. The pistol was not loaded. Robinson forfeited $20 collateral by failing to appear in the Police Court this morning.

Right to the Point.

"The following letter," said a traveling man, "was received by a friend of mine who was drumming up trade in New England for a New York necktie house:

"'We have received your letter with expense account. What we want is orders. We have big families to make expenses for us. We find in your expense account 50 cents for billiards. Please don't buy any more billiards; also we see $2.25 for horse and buggy. Where is the horse, and what did you do with the buggy? The rest of your expense account is nothing but bed. Why is it you don't ride more in the nighttime?

"'John says you should stop in Boston, where his cousin George Moore lives. John says you should sell Moore a good bill. Give good prices—he is John's cousin. Sell him mostly for cash; also John says you can leave Boston at 11:45 in the night and get to Concord at 4:35 in the morning. Do this and you won't need any bed. And, remember, what we want is orders.'"

Trading as a Fine Art.

A grocery store in Nelson, Lancashire, was managed by a collier's wife. One night the good woman was compelled to leave the shop for a short time in charge of her husband, giving him full instructions how to act and especially cautioning him that in the event of a customer presenting a jar or pot and asking for treacle, jam or pickles he "must be sure and weigh th' pot."

Full of confidence, the collier installed himself behind the counter. In a short time a lad ran into the shop and piped out:

"I want two pound o' pickles fur mi faythur, and here's th' pot."

The good man carefully weighed the pot and exclaimed:

"Nay, lad, th' pot weighs enough bowt pickles, but I'll gi' thi one or two anyway."—Liverpool Mercury.

The First American Duel.

In the year 1630 occurred the first duel known to have taken place on American soil. The principals, Edward Doty and Edward Leister, were servants of a Mr. Hopkins, one of the New England colonists. The men had quarreled over some trifling matter and resorted to the field for its settlement. The affair was stopped by the authorities, but not before one had been wounded in the thigh and the other in the hand. There was no law covering such matters, but the governor of the province decided that the men should be punished nevertheless. At his orders they were sent to have their heads and feet tied together and lie in that condition twenty-four hours without food or drink. They suffered so much, however, that they were released at the end of an hour.

His Apprenticeship.

"Yes," said Mr. Pater, with ill concealed pride, "my youngest boy makes some smart remarks at times. Only recently he asked me what it meant to be an apprentice. I told him that it meant the binding of one person to another by agreement and that one person so bound had to teach the other all he could of his trade or profession, while the other had to watch and learn how things were done and had to make himself useful in every way possible."

"What did he say to that?" asked one of the audience.

"Why, after a few minutes the young rascal looked up at me and said, 'Then I suppose you're apprenticed to mother, aren't you, dad?'"—London Answers.

Herbert Spencer and the Puddles.

On no one occasion was Herbert Spencer known to ride when going to a dinner, yet so carefully did he guard himself against the chance of soiling his dress shoes that he habitually carried a bundle of old newspapers under his arm. These were for the purpose of being dropped, one by one, into each mud puddle he might encounter on crossing the street. By the time he reached his destination the store of papers was exhausted. Muddy shoes on the return walk did not matter to him in the least.—London Caterer.

For Emergencies.

A banking reserve is for use, not merely for show. It is for use in times of emergency. Yet some bankers look upon their reserves very much as the superintendent of a hospital regarded its emergency bed. A patient all banged up in an accident was brought to the hospital one night and was told that there was no room for him. "Why not put him in the emergency bed?" it was suggested. "If we put him in the emergency bed," it was replied, "then we would have no emergency bed."—Wall Street Journal.

A Clever Scheme.

Mother (examining school report)—How did you come to have such good marks in arithmetic this week? Tommy—Well, you see, it was this way: We had ten examples a day, and I got the teacher to help me to do five, and Eric Jones got her to help him on the other five. Then we swapped helps. See?—Harper's.

Impartial.

"Mr. Scatterton prides himself on being strictly impartial."

"Yes," answered the unamiable man. "I once went shooting with him. He didn't seem to care whether he hit the rabbit, the dog or one of his friends."

The Dangerous Case.

One of the surgeons of a hospital asked an Irish help which he considered the most dangerous of the many cases then in the hospital. "That, sir," said Patrick as he pointed to a case of surgical instruments.

Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no cocaine, mercury nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. Where Idols Are Eaten.

At certain seasons in some parts of India it is the duty of every devout person to eat a special sort of confectionery. Every confectioner in October, for instance, has a pole about six feet high at his door, and to this is nailed a great hook about a foot long and thick in proportion. On one side of this is a brisk fire, with a huge earthen pan on it. Before the pan a man may be seen sitting, for nobody stands when he can sit, with a kind of wooden ladle, and with this he briskly stirs a quantity of bubbling, black looking sugar till it becomes quite tough. He then scrapes it together and puts it on a piece of board to cool a little, and then, getting up and dexterously throwing it on the large hook, he begins to pull out the tough substance. He draws it out to the length of four or five feet at a time and throws it back and elongates it again, and so he manipulates it till the mass becomes as white as snow. This composition so treated is manufactured in all sorts of sacred forms—figures of little idols and gods—and is eagerly bought for consumption.—Strand Magazine.

Ink Froze on the Pen.

The winter of 1683-4 in Europe still holds its place as one of the most severe and remarkable on record. So tremendous was the cold that trees split asunder with deafening reports. The strangest sight of all was on the Thames. Here on more than a foot thickness of ice a thoroughgoing town of streets was erected. There were tailors' shops, butchers' shops, tobacconists, printers and, indeed, many other businesses all being carried on as if they had stood there for years.

Writing anywhere but near a large fire was impossible, as the ink froze in pot and on the pen, whole barrels of liquids were frozen solid and wine was sold in one pound blocks. New bread on being taken out of the oven would immediately stiffen and become solid. There were hundreds of deaths from the cold, and throughout the frost the poor suffered miserably.—Pearson's Weekly.

Little Great Men.

A Chinese who had long studied the works of Confucius, who knew the characters of 14,000 words and could read a great part of every book that came in his way once took it into his head to travel into Europe. Upon his arrival at Amsterdam his passion for letters naturally led him to a bookseller's shop, and as he could speak a little Dutch he civilly asked the bookseller for the works of the immortal Xixofou. The bookseller assured him he had never heard the book mentioned before. "Alas," cried our traveler, "to what purpose, then, has he fasted to death to gain a renown which has never traveled beyond the precincts of China?" There is scarce a village in Europe and not one university that is not thus furnished with its little great men.—Oliver Goldsmith.

First American Play.

The first play written by an American produced in this country, according to the Philadelphia Public Ledger, was the tragedy, "The Prince of Parthia," by Thomas Godfrey, which was brought out at the Southwark theater in the Quaker City in April, 1767, by Lewis Hallam's company, the first organization of players to visit Philadelphia. Godfrew was an ambitious young poet, who died at an early age. His play was above mediocrity and an important part of the volume of his works published in 1765.

A Use For His Obituary.

A well meaning and conscientious editor on being shown by the man most interested that the death of the commandant was falsely reported in his paper, apologized profusely and offered to make it all right.

"We'll print a correction at once," he said.

"Well," said the man who wasn't dead, "perhaps it would be better to let it stand. I'll show it to my friends when they want to borrow money."

Painful Etiquette.

The royal court of France used to be a great place for etiquette. Louis XIV. once caught a severe cold owing to the fact that on his arising from his bed one cold morning the lord of the chamber, whose duty it was to hand him his shirt, happened to be absent. Not one of the numerous courtiers present had the courage to transgress etiquette by handing the garment to the shivering monarch.—London Scrap Book.

Indifferent.

"I can't give you an opinion on that question," the statesman replied, "because it's a question I pay no attention to. I am indifferent to it—as indifferent as the backswoodsman's wife. That lady, you know, looked on while her husband had a fierce hand to hand tussle with a bear, and afterward she said it was 'the only fight she ever saw where she didn't care who won.'"

Going On.

A terrible noise of thumping and stamping came from Bob's room early one morning.

"Bobby, Bobby," called his mother from downstairs, "what is going on up there?"

"My shoes," replied Bob.

One Drawback.

Olive—What an improvement it will be if the time ever comes when everybody can get a seat in the street cars. Violet—Oh, I don't know. A girl would never be sure then that she was pretty.—Puck.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.
